

I cannot tell you in strong enough language how much I, and my family enjoy XM radio. The range of different types of programming plus the quality of the programs are superb. As we live in mountainous and somewhat rural area with frequent excursions made away from home we always feel comfortable in knowing wherever we are the signal quality can be counted on to be both reliable and thoroughly enjoyable. Where you cant get tradional signals the xm signal is strong and clear. Since I purchased a new car with built in and integrated xm equipment two members of my family now are subscribers. I also have a receiving unit installed in my home broadcasting through the stereo system. Its an exciting time for this new medium and it will sell itself to the public. Its a wonderful addition to our public broadcasting system. Ellis D Pettigrew
